

2018 Compendium of Federal Medicine

Published each year in May, The Compendium of Federal Medicine is a concise, yet comprehensive compilation of the current clinical review of the top disease states treated in the federal market.

Recognizing the diversity of the federal market, the Compendium of Federal Medicine is a collection of articles on select topics of proven high interest to federal healthcare professionals, updating readers on a wide variety of clinical matters that impacts the care of the federal patient. The 2018 Compendium will mail along with the May edition of U.S. Medicine to a full circulation of 35,000 physicians, pharmacists, nurse practitioners, physician assistants and medical center administrators and central office leadership working in Department of Veterans Affairs, Department of Defense (The military health system) and the Indian Health Service.

Every effort is made to position advertising within editorial content that aligns with its respective therapeutic category.
